ents of Scotland Yard Detectives in This Country Traced in Chicago, Kansas City and Denver-Detective Kirby's Plot to Entrap the President of the Montreal Branch League - Views of Prominent Irishmen of This City.

NEW YORK, January 16 .- The Herald claims to have secured information of a plot conocted by English detectives and desperate Irishmen to blow up one of the great transtlantic steamers in the New York harbor. According to the Herald the object is to force the adoption of the British-American extradition treaty and strengthen the case of the London Times against the Parnellites. The Herald says: "On the 11th of December last the Herald astonished the Irish Nationalists in America by the publication of an article about the movements of London detectives. Some months before the date mentioned, Fred Jervis, a well-known Scotland Yard man, arrived in America and made no great secret of the fact that he was here in the interest of the London Times to ferret out information about tors" and particularly those of the dynaniters. Chief Inspector Shore, Superintendent of the Criminal Investigation Department of the London Metropolitan police, also came with the same intention-to try to connect the Parneilites with the imes charged. Mr. Shore went to Kansas City to meet Jervis and representatives of the Pinkertons. Three of the Pinkerton men have been for years at work on the Irish national secret societies. One of them, seems, communicated directly with Scotland Yard, and Manager Bangs of this city adnitted it to an Irish Nationalist, who CAUGHT HIM IN A TRAP. The London Times, at the first hearings, had exnausted its evidence, and its lawyers saw that it was only of secondary importance. L. Kilbourn, a representative of that paper, soon be made public. He is supposed to have been making investigations in connection with the Herald's dynamite plot story.

DENIAL OF DETECTIVES.

with the Herald's dynamite plot story.

Detective Humphrey of the Ackerman Agency, an old English detective, says no English detective has been in this city. He says there was one in the country awhile ago, but he remained in New York most of the time, and came no farther west than Chicago at any time. He had heard nothing of the alleged plot. The Pinkerton and Mooney & Boland detective agencies profess absolute ignorance of the Herald's reported plot, and deny that any English detectives have been in this city or that the Pinkertons had been here on any such purpose.

"Detective" Kirby's Doings.

MONTREAL, Quebec, January 16 .- The dis-

losures regarding Kirby, the alleged Scotland

ard spy, who, it is said, was employed by the Yard spy, who, it is said, was employed by the London Times to ferret out evidence implicating the Irish leaders in the Phoenix Park murders, have created a great sensation here, where Kirby is well known. Kirby has been a resident of Montreal for many years. It now turns out that Kirby was employed in his nefarious work even before he left Montreal for the States, as a startling story told last night shows: The President of the Montreal Branch of the Irish National League is H. J. Cloran, a lawyer of this city. His partner is E. J. Bedner. On or about October 18 last, Kirby sent for Lawyer Bedner and told him that he had been engaged to secure evidence for the London Times, implicating the Irish leaders and that Bedner could make a good thing out of it if he would give him access to President Cloran's private papers which were in the office of the firm. Kirby further told Bedner that he would not have to work at his profession for some years if he could procure the papers, as he knew that Cloran had had communication with Parnell, Davitt, O'Brien, Egan, Fitzgerald and other Irish leaders and he hoped to find in these documents evidence that would be of service to the Times. Kirby said he had unlimited credit from the Times and promised that any one getting him access to the papers would be well compensated. Lawyer Bedner at once exposed the whole plan to his partner. Mr. Cloran decided to take a hand in leading the English spy into a deeper plot. It was arranged that a series of blood curdling letters, compromising the Irish leaders, should be written and deposited in the safe and to be allowed to fall into Kirby's hands. The scheme could not be carried out, however, as Kirby left suddenly a few days afterward for New York, and has not been seen here since. London Times to ferret out evidence imp

VIEWS OF IRISHMEN.

Opinions of Prominent St. Louisans on the

The report of the discovery in New York of the English detective plot was of such a startling character that prominent Irishmen of this city who were seen to-day were in-clined to withhold comments . until they earned more of the diabolical story. Among the gentlemen seen were the following:

Mr. Richard Ennis said: "The story takes me entirely by surprise, and I therefore can form no opinion concerning its truth. All I an say is that it would require a great deal of proof before I credited the English Govern-

America with plenty of money to buy real or manufactured evidence to enable the great London journal to carry on its case. After the arrival of Messrs. Shore and Jervis was known, it was discovered that Inspector Andrews of Sociland Yard was in Toronto and Montreal, also on the same errand. Stirred up by these publications, the friends of Mr. Parnell and the Irish National League set a close watch on the movements of the English detectives. They found that the information was true and that the chiefs of the Pinkerton Agency, Bob and Billy Pinkerton, were roaming around Kansas City about the time indicated, accompanied by two strangers; also that the Pinkertons left one of the strangers in Kansas City and proceeded to Denver, where they dropped the other. What has since been learned is very startling. It is that a plot has developed with ramifications in Kansas City and New York for the purpose of blowing up by dynamite some one if it proves to be true, no words ment with any such nefarious scheme."

"POST-DISPATCH" CHILDREN'S FUND. Work of the First Three Days of Distribu-

The third day of the distribution of the clothing provided by the POST-DILPATCH children's fund was inaugurated by the appearance of an even larger crowd of destitute minors than had assembled on either Monday or Tuesday. Long before the hour for the opening of business had arrived the street in front of each place of distribution was thronged by a crowd of children, whose toes, peeping through the remains of their shoes and inaufficient clothing, spoke plainer than words of the want and destitution which was the reason for the inauguration of the fund and which it has done so much to relieve. The volunteer workers were kept busy all day fitting shoes and stockings to the children and dealing out clothing to those requiring it. But diligently as they worked, they were unable to supply the wants of all who called, and an equally large number of applicants for aid is expected to morrow.

Testerday the distribution was very large; 700 children were given shoes and stockings, which, were carefully fitted to their feet, and underclothing in the same proportion was dealt out, while hundreds who had good shoes were provided with stockings. During the two first days of the distribution 2,000 pairs of stockings, 1,000 pairs of shoes and fiannel and underwear in about the same proportion were distributed.

The attention of the public is directed to the following rules:

If there are three or more children in a family there must be three or more tickets for them.

Each ticket must be issued by either the St. Vincent de Paul Society, the Provident Association, the Hebrew Relief Association or the Society of the Associated Charity Workers and must bear the signature of the President of either of these societies and of a member who has visited the family and ascertained its immediate wants.

Only properly issued and properly signed tickets will be honored.

unsatisfactory) the court as now constituted would reverse the former decision. This decision puts an extraordinary power into the cision puts an extraordinary power into the hands of a President and a partisan Senate, and in times of political excitement might work a grave injury to the army and navy and to the Republic. Such a disposition of the case of Swalm was, therefore, not to be thought of. There remained only a pardon and a retirement, for it appears not to have occurred to the administration that he should be pardened and restored to active duty. It would be his right to assume the duties of his office, unless retired for some one of the causes known to the military law. An army officer may be retired (1) for disability; (2) because of thirtylyears' continuous service; (3) because of age. Gen. Swalm can only be retired on the ground of physical disability. Can that cause be found? It is asserted that it can be and that Swalm is willing to be pardoned and to be retired on that ground. As preliminary to such a movement the Board of Retirement was yesterday ordered. What next? Part of this movement is said to be to provide a life place for Gen. Black, a present Commissioner of Pensions. The friends of Gen. Black, so far as they are at liberty to talk about the matter, say that they expect that Swalm will be retired in the manner indicated and that then Black will be made his successor.

The Senate. WASHINGTON, D. C., January 16.—The Pres Mr. Cullom presented a memorial of the Women's National Christian Temperance Union of Illinois and other bodies, in favor of legislation for Sabbath observance, against the running of interstate Sunday trains, and against military drills on Sunday. These and many similar memorials from other States which were presented by various senators, were referred to the Committee on Education and Labor. The memorials were in large bundles covered with red cloth, and their presentation was witnessed by a deputation of ladies in the gallery.

HURON, Dak., January 16 .- The attendance upon the Statehood Convention, which convenes here at 2 p. m. to-day, promises to be aurprisingly large. The indications are that at least thirty-three of the forty-nine counties of South Dakota will be represented. The majority of delegates now on the ground are apparently in favor of the Sioux Falls constitution, believing that it will secure Statehood earlier than any other way. Some say admission under the Platt bill; others favor a compromise with Springer and his friends, and a few cry for admission, even though great concession be made, rather than take the risk of longer delay.

Charges of violation of agreements have been made against the Lackswanns and have been replied to by counter-charges, but President Sloan has not attended any of the various meetings called by the other trunk lines, in the hope of reaching an agreement or arriving at a method of arbitration. The attendance of President Sloan at the banking and railroad conference on Thursday surprised many railroad people. His attendance or a fully credited representative at a trunk line conference would certainly surprise most of the trunk line people, even if it also pleased the bankers who are seeking to obtain a co-operative agreement among the railroads of the country for the sake of securing permanent rates to shippers and profitable returns to stockholders.

rights and Samoan autonomy as recognized and agreed to by Germany, Great Britain and the United States, and has so informed the German Government. You will at once proceed to Samoa and extend full protection and defense to American clizens and property. You will consult with the American Vice-Onsul, examine his archives and otherwise inform yourself as to the cituation and all recent occurrences. Protest against the subjugation and displacement of the native Government of Samoa by Germany as in violation of a positive agreement and understanding between the treaty powers, but informe the representatives of the German and British Governments of your readiness to co-operate in causing all treaty rights to be respected and in restoring peace and order on a basis of a recognition of Samoan rights to independence. Endeavor to prevent extreme measures against the Samoans and to bring about a peaceful settlement. If such arrangement can be shade upon that basis you will report the same for approval and you will inform the Government as soon as possible after your arrival in Samoa of the condition of affairs, and the prospect of a peaceful adjustment, and whether Germany was acting impartially between the opposing forces when the late conflict occurred. "WHITMEY."

REPORTER ELEIN BLANED.

On January 12, Secretary Bayard addressed a communication to Count Arco, the German Minister to the United States, in reply to a statement giving the German version of the Samoan difficulty. The statement of Count Arco is substantially as follows:

"The German forces were landed in Samoa after the German Commander had given notice of his intention to the commanders of the American and British men-of-war, the reason for landing being that some German plantations were in danger. Upon landing the Germans were attacked by the Samoans under the command of Klein, an American eltizen, and lost fifty, Rilled and wounded. A state of war is therefore announced by Germany, and as an American is alleged to have been in command of the attacking Samoan force, Count Arco is instructed to make complaint to the United States. The treaty rights of the United States and all the rights of the treaty powers shall be respected under all circumstances. The German Government begs the United States to join them in an active way to restore calm and quiet."

SECRETARY BAYARD'S REPLY.

In response, Secretary Bayard says that he at once communicated to "you" (the Count) on becoming aware of the allegations that the Samoa forces were led by an American named Kiein, that he had no knowledge whatever, of the United States.

"I was certain," continues the Secretary's letter, "that he was not and never had been in any way connected with its public service, nor acting under color or pretense of its authority. The instructions given to officials of this Government at Samoa have never deviated from those made public and which were well known to Germany and Great Britain to maintain materials.

and confine their action to good offices in the maintenance of peace and order in those regions, and securing protection for American

RESECTING AMERICAN TREATT RIGHTS.
The Secretary says that before he received the German instructions, orders had been given by the President looking to the protection of citizens of the United States and their property, and that it was with entire readiness that he accepted the invitation of Germany that the United States should "join in an active way to restore caim and goist in those islands."

The Secretary further says: "I received also, with expressed satisfaction, your assursnee of the intentions of your Government to maintain and carefully respect the treaty rights of this Government under all circumstances and this, as I stated to you, necessarily included respect for the existence of Samoan autonomy and independence, which is the basis of the three treaties made with the United States, Germany and Great Britain, the first-named being earliest in date. The protocols of the conference on Samoan affairs held in this city in the summer of 1887 by the representatives of the United States, Germany and Great Britain will disclose that slithough the conference did not produce an agreement as to a complete plan of government for that community, nevertheless on certain points all three Governments coincided, and one of these was the free elections by the Samoan, according to their own will and custom, of a king. If would seem most opportune if such and I feel assured that it would do much towards ending the turbulent and bitter discontent which has led to the shooking internecine warfare among these islanders, and finally involved them in a despiy regretable

As is generally the case, but little was done in West Granite on the call. The market opened at 97½ bid, but a sale of 100 shares caused the price to fall to 96½, and after 200 shares were disposed of at this figure the price dropped to 90, at which 800 shares changed hands. Earnest trading began after the call. At 95 sales aggregating over 5,000 shares were made, and 800 shares brought 96¼. A decline followed, and when 1,000 shares had changed hands at 35, the price fell to 95%, the transfers amounting to 2,500 shares at this, which was the closing quotation. No authentic news has been received, and the rumors were of the old familiar character.

I, X. L. opened at 15 asked, 14 bid, 200 shares bringing the latter figure. A decline set in, which continued under heavy sales, 1,500 shares brought 13½; at 13 the sales aggregate 800 shares; 1,200 shares brought 12½, and the market closed at 12, at which 3,000 shares changed hands.

For some time the stock was neglected, but it suddenly took an upward shoot and the next sales aggregated 800 shares at 35. This price was freely bid for more, but hone was forthcoming, and the market closed at 114 bid. The rise was ascribed to news received from Leadville to the effect that what seemed a very promising body of ore had been struck in the upper north level, and also to the statement that the water has for some time been serieus embarrassing operations in the Adarus was being rapidly removed by the pumps in the Henrietta and Maid free of cost to the Adams.

GOV. FRANCIS IN NO HURBY TO MAKE AF-

Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH. JEFFERSON CITY, January 16 .- In looking over the list of Senate committees the name of Senator Castleman of St. Louis is missed. He was not placed on a single committee, the Lieutenant-Governor evidently being of the opinion that Senator Castleman's illness would prevent his active participation in the proceedings of the Senate this winter. With Castleman incapacitated for legislative work the St. Louis Democrats are represented in the Senate of the Thirty-fifth General Assemoly only by Senators Kerwin and Ketchum. It is reported that Gov. Francis will make no appointments to State offices for the next two weeks. The Warden of the penitentlary has still that length of time to serve, as has also the Labor Commissioner, while the Coal Oil Inspector of St. Louis does, not go out of office until next June. The Governor is said to be in no particular hurry about the matter and his ifriends say will take his time and

THE HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.

In the House this morning Dr. Noble of Henry County, submitted a petition from his constituents asking for the taxation of insurance companies.

Mr. Collins of Scotland County, introduced a resolution providing for the appointment of a committee to inquire into reports that the gallery of the house is unsafe, and to suggest a plan for bracing it.

Mr. Church of Harrison County, introduced a joint and concurrent resolution to take a vote of the State on the question of holding a convention for a revision of the State constitution.

The House received reports from a number of special committees, and adjourned until 10 o'clock to-morrow morning.

The Senate this morning wrestled with the question of the salary to be paid to the President Pro Tem and clerks of the committees. A motion to increase the staff of the Seargent at-Arms by the addition of two clerks was described by Senator Moran of Buchanan, as an act to increase the loafing force around the purileus of the capitol. Senator MoGinnis said that in all of his legislative experience he had never been able to find a committee clerk when he wanted one, excepting the jelerk of the Committee on Accounts. After talking on the subject for two hours, the matter was laid over until to-morrow.

There is an especial purpose served b he Post-Dispatch Parnell Defense Fund which cannot be reached by a subscription of any other nature.

None of the funds now in the hands of committees for the assistance of the Irish leader, the Irish party or the suffering Irish people have the element of popularity contained in a fund of this kind. Thousands of people who sympathize with Mr. PARNELL and his associates in their fight, either do not know the proper channels in which to contribute or are not able to contribute enough to make what they would deem a respectable showing.

The Post-Dispatch fund is designed to afford such people an opportunity to show their sympathy for the cause of Irish terial aid.

SITUATION IN IBELAND. Picture of Legalized Tyranny Drawn by Henry Labouchere, M. P.—The Oppress ive Laws From Which Relief Is Sought-The "Post-Dispatch" Parnell Defens Fund Growing Steadily.

The Post-Disparch Parnell Defense Fund, to be raised by subscriptions of 25 cents each, was inaugurated on the 12th inst. Since tic have come to light showing now timely the great cause which Mr. Parnell is leading. Mr. Henry Labouchere, an English member of Parliament and one of the best-informed nen in the United Kingdom, in a special cablegram to the Post-Disparch over his own signature presented the latest picture of Edward Harrington and Mr. Finucane, one o nounces the circumstances of Mr. Harrington's conviction especially vindictive. His offense was having attended a meeting of the National League after Balfour declared it to be illegal. He published his speech in his paper, the Kerry Sentinei. In his denunciation of Mr. Harrington's treatment Mr. Labouchere presents the American public a pen portrait of the Irish magistrate of today and a sample of English justice. He ease, is the worst specimen of the rufflans who have been appointed by Mr. Balfour to carry on his work. Three years ago he was a lecturer for the Irish Loyal and Patriotic Union—an Orange body for the purpose of disseminating literature and lectures antagonistic to the Irish cause. I hope American readers thoroughly understand what an Irish resident magistrate reality is; I hope, but I am not sure, for it is rather difficult to convey the idea to people who are accustomed to no other magistrates than such as have been elected by the people and are responsible to the people. A resident magistrate holds office absolutely at the wish of Mr. Balfour. Mr. Balfour appoints him, can dismiss him, can promote him, can give him a pension or refuse him a pension. Not only is this the case in theory. I nounces the circumstances of Mr. day and a sample of English justice. He says:

"Roche, the magistrate who tried the case, is the worst specimen of the ruffians who have been appointed by Mr. Balfour to carry on his work. Three years ago he was a lecturer for the Irish Loyal and Patriotic Union—an Orange body for the purpose of disseminating literature and lectures antagonistic to the Irish cause. I hope American readers thoroughly understand what an Irish resident magistrate really is; I hope, but I am not sure, for it is rather difficult to convey the idea to people who are accustomed to no other magistrates than such as have been elected by the people and are responsible to the people. A resident magistrate holds office absolutely at the wish of Mr. Balfour. Mr. Balfour appoints him, can dismiss him, can promote him, can give him a pension or refuse him a pension. Not only is this the case in theory, but also in practice. For instance Capt. It stokes, the resident magistrate who convicted Mr. O'Brien, is a magistrate no longer. He has been promoted to what is called a District Magistracy, a higher and better-paid place. I was a pension to tell you that trails of Irish Nationalists before these creatures of Mr. the lafour are a farmand a monkery."

In his cablegrams Mr. Labouchere chal-lenges the world to contradiction. If they were not absolutely correct. English windle tiveness would soon arraign him in the Par liament of which he is a member, representing a large constituency. In view of these facts the following authorized statement of legalized injustice must horrily people of free countries:

"The case of Finucane," says Mr. Labouchere, "is even more scandalous. He made a speech in which he denounced land grabbing, but he accompanied these denunciations of land grabbing with warnings against the commission of crime, and he never mentioned the name of any individual. It was quite impossible, then, to convict Mr. Finucane on his own speech. The resources of the resident magistrates, however, were not exhausted. They discovered that Finucane had been present not only at the meeting on which he was charged, which took place in last October, but also at a meeting in the previous March, at which a solleitor named Moran denounced a particular land-grabber by name. The magistrates held that Finucane must be held responsible for Moran's language, because he was present when it was employed, and had In conclusion Mr. Labouchere says:

In conclusion Mr. Labourge and in its are going on in Ireland. They make one's blood boil, but there is the consolation that they are well calculated to increase the large store of popular indignation in this country which, by niar indignation in this country which, and by, will sweep away the present Gover

A UNIVERSAL WAIL.

While the St. Louis observer was making these comments he had in mind the remarkably warm winter St. Louis has had thus far in the season of 1888-89. It has been the warmest winter in the history of the city since the station was established, and the weather eclipses anything in this line within the memory of the cidest inhabitant.

There is a wail among the liverymen who have missed their annual fat income from the renting of sleight; among the plumbers who have not seen the semblance or the prospect of a bursting water-pipe; among the ladies have not seen the semblance or the prospect of a bursting water-pipe; among the ladies who have not had a chance to air their seal skin garments, and among the furriers who have not had a chance to sell theirs; among the small boys and the big boys, and girls who love the invigorating sport of sleighing, coasting and skating, and among the old folks who shake their heads solemnly and say that the remarkably warm weather bodes no good in the matter of health during the coming spring. There has been a wail too, and a deep one, among the clothing merchants, who, after laying in a fine stock of winter goods during the fall months, have been forced to sell them at ruinously low figures, and were glad to get rid of them even at that. In fact, there has been a wail from all kinds and classes of people, except, perhaps, the poor, who have suffered less from the severity of the climate during the present year than ever before.

zero or only about 12 deg. below the freezing point.

This was the coldest day. The next lowest temperature reached was that touched on the 19th day of December (last-month) when the mercury touched 20.6 above. January 1, (New Year's Day) was the third coldest day. The mercury was quoted at 31.2 degrees above on that day. January 16 saw 22.5; on January 9 and 12 the mercury at 18 lowest point was 25 degrees above; on January 6 and 71 was 27 and on January 1 is was 29 degrees above. The warmest day during the winter months was November 1 when 70 deg. above zero was recorded; on December 24, 59 above was touched and to-day, January 16, the mercury-firsted with the 35 mark. This indeed is a really remarkable record and a comparison of these flaures with those of other years will clearly demonstrate the truth of this statement.

b, 1884, the thermometer recogned minus 21.5, or 21.5 deg. below zero, cr55.5 degrees below feesing. This is cold weather with a vengeance. It will be observed that with one exception this extremely cold weather has been recorded before the present say and month of the year, namely, January 26.

The markings showing cold weather after this date are: In 1884, 7 deg. above, February 2; in 1885, 6 deg. below, February 10; in 1886, 6 deg. below, February 2; in 1885, deg. above, February 4; in 1888, 4 deg. below, February 9. Thus twill be seen that while the extreme cold has occurred before this date the weather has not been comparatively severe after this date.

CIT, January 15, 1889.—Ben to representative of the Temper-noe, arrived from St. Louis this afteral This evening a number of the fields high license and liquor regulation legislation held a short cancus and discussed in an informal way a plan of campaign for the session. It is understood that the result of the computation was a determination to introduce at least two bills on the liquor ques-tion at an early day, probably to-morrow. In a conversation with one of the gentlemen who attended this meeting it was learned that the Temperance Alliance had lost confidence believing that the Deering bill, published in the POST-DISPATCH three weeks ago, will not pass the Legislature, and for that reason they have decided not to introduce it. The bill was for Mr. Deering and the Alliance and was printed in the form of a bill regularly introduced and ordered printed by the General Assembly. This was done for circulation among the members and for their convenience when the measure should be introduced. Shortly after the Legislature met, however, it became after the beginning and his as mong the members as Mr. Deering and his Engineer Clemens States That He Know the bill was postponed. Alliance will attempt to pass two separate bills, one of which will relate to the liquor traffic of drug stores and the sale of liquor in quantities of five gallons and upwards, and the other to an increase in the minimum tax. The amount of the dram'shop license for $3,000 a year; for cities of the second-class, cities of 5,000 inhabitants, $1,500, and for cities under 5,000 inhabitants, $1,000. These figures Deering bill. The new bills, if passed, will effect changes only in the present dram-shop law and will not amend or alter the local option law. There will be no provisions in the new bills for the numerous restrictions about the manner in which a dramshop shall be run or by whom it shall made about the number of signers necessary to a dramenop petition than is now required by law. This is considerable of a back-down from the stand taken by the Alliance people several weeks ago. They seem to have come to the conclusion that if they can't get prohibitive high license, they will take what is offered. be run, nor will any other restrictions be dents show that the management and the sudents don't get along very well together.

The Post-Dispatch was correct in prophesying the chairmanships of the most important committees of the House. Sebree of Saline was placed at the head of Judclary, Champ Clark of Pike got Criminal Jurisprudence, Dunn of Lincoln Constitutional Amendments, Bodine of Monroe was given Appropriations, Shaw of Ste. Genevieve Banks and Corporations, Young of Bucnanan Ways and Means, Sliver of Cole Revision, Collins of Scotland Internal Improvements, Allison of Ralls Municipal Corporations, Jewett of Sheby Insurance.

The most important committee is that on Criminal Jurisprudence, of which Champ Clark of Pike is chairman. As has been previously stated in the Post Dispatch Clark takes a very conservative view of the liquor question and is opposed to extreme legislation such as proposed by the Deering high license bill. Jim Moore of Laclede and Harry Shaw of Ste. Genevieve, who are also on the committee, are of the same mind as Clark, and it is extremely improbable that the committee will recommend any measurs which goes further in amending the present law than to slightly increase the minimum amount of taxation for county purposes.

Thurmon of Callaway, who was given Elecmosynary Institutions, comes from Fulton where the State Lunatic Asylum is located. Kneisley of Boone gets the Committee on University. The Kansas City delegation was almost entirely shat out, receiving only two unimportant chairmanships, and they are doing some very hard kicking in consequence. The St. Louis Union Labor delegation friends. Hoose was placed on the Internal Improvements committee to represent the Kinth District and Curley, Dempsey and the other members were all well treated.

In the Senate Major of Howard was given the chairmanship of the Committee on Hevision. This will be a joint committee of the Senate and the House, and Major will, of course, take precedence over Silver of the House and will act as chairman of the joint body. Smith of Boilinger was placed at the head of Criminal Jurisprudence. Smith, like Clark in the House, is anything but an extremist on liquor legislation. The Committee on Internal Improvements went to Hazeli of Moniteau, Ways and Means to Clay of Andrain, Appropriations to Piersoli of Monroe.

During the progress of the fight one of the tailors used his favorite weapon, the scissors, and stabbed his favorite weapon, the scissors, and stabbed his antagonist in the chest. After doing the cutting he escaped. Officer Yaughn, who was standing on Fourth and Wainut streets waiting for a car, was attracted by the excitement created by the row and attempted to arrest the man who had been cut. Vogt told him the other man was to blame and stood between the officer and the man he wished to arrest. He kept between them until the man made his escape, whereupon Vaughn arrested him. Judge Cady fined Vogt 510 and costs.

Pat Welsh was fined 5100 for idling. He and Thomas O'Donnell are alleged to have robbed a man on the Leves and Spruce street. Their victim would not remain here to prosecute, so a charge of idling was preferred against them. O'Donnell took a continuance until to-morrow to prove that he is a workingman.*

The L. S. Musicale nad a delightful meeting yesterday afternoon at the residence of Miss Ulara Hauk, No. 7746 Lucas avenue. Donizetti and Devorak were the subject of study, and Miss Martin opened the programme by reading an original paper upon Donizetti. Mrs. Angel followed with extracts from Devorak's life, and mentioned incidentally that a Bohemian soldier, now at Jefferson Barracks, was a co-laborer with Devorak, whose early life was a bitter struggle with poverty. The musical members then followed opening with a piano duett from 'Lucia di Lammermoot' by Mrs. Frank Pond and Mrs. Theodore Sheiton, and was followed by a soprano solo, "La Dame aux Camelia," by Miss Connon; a contraito solo, Romarza, 'Anna Bolena, 'Mrs. Frant; a piano duett, 'Rhapsodie Hongroise No. 2," by Mrs. Angel and Mrs. Tamblyn; a piano solo by Miss Weiner; a soprano solo, one of Donizetti's miscellaneous composition, by Miss Hauk; a piano solo, 'The Witches' Dance, 'by Mrs. G. SALISBURY PUNISHING THE UNITED STATES FOR SACKVILLE'S DISMISSAL Salisbury's Reasons For Not Appointing a Minister-The Queer Case of Count

Benomar-The Duke of Marlborough's Orchids-Oueen Victorials Trip-London LONDON, January 16 .- The original correspondence respecting the Sackville incident, which has just been published, shows that Lord Salisbury is really evading the sending of a British representative to Washington in order to punish the United States for having packed off Lord Sackville. The Marquis of Salisbury lays down the principle that a country ought not to recall a representative simply because the Govern ment of the country to which he is accredited bases this view of international law upon the Lord Palmerston may have been in the right, but considering that the object of having a representative accredited to a foreign govern-ment is to promote peace, amity and good feeling, the knowledge that this person selected is not likely to con-tribute to these ends ought to be a sufficient eause for his immediate recall. The United States need not, however, trouble themselves about the follies of Lord Salisbury, for they are, no doubt, fully aware that the British people would rather sacrifice the whole British people would rather sacrifice the whole themselves about the follies of Lord Salisbury for they are, no doubt, fully aware that the peerage than in any way compromise the close and intimate friendship which, thank Heaven, exist between the two great branches of the English speaking race. Probably the main reason why Lord Salisbury does not send a she intends to reside for a month. It is highly probable that the Empress Frederick, who entirely changed her plans during last week, may go to Biarritz next month, in which case she will stay there until the end of the Queen's sojourn. cent Towns. Count Benomar, the Spanish Ambassador at Berlin, whose departure from that capital was recorded in last Friday's papers, is a personage of the middle ages. He considered himself to be the servant of the Queen Regent and in no way concerned with the Cabinet, regarding the Ministers of which it is composed merely as Her Majesty's clerks. He was recalled by the Foreign Minister nearly two months ago, but utterly ignored the mandate and continued to transact the business of his embassy as if nothing had happened, declaring that he should consider himself as Spanish Ambassabor until he was recalled by a letter in the Queen Regent's own hand. He did not take any steps to quit Berlin until this condition had been compiled with.

THE MARLBOROUGHS.

The Duke and Duchess of Mariborough have been entertaining a large family party at Blenheim. The facts about the Blenheim orchids are as follows: The Duke has about 40,000 plants of one sort and another, but manages his hot-houses on business principles, and whenever a rare flower turns up among the imported specimens he selis it. He never gives 50 guineas or anything like that sum for a plant, as has been stated, but sold one the other day for 139 guineas to Mr. Sanders, the famous dealer. It need hardly be said that the value of the collection is a triffe under £2,000,000 sterling, the preposterous estimate put up on it by some addie-pated scribblers.

The Funeral of Mrs. Jay Gould in New

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, January 16 .- Final arrangements were made yesterday for Mrs. Jay Gould's funeral to-day. The oak casket arrived last evening, but the body was not people in attendance to view the body. Mr. Gould and children desire to have the funeral conducted with as much privacy as possible,

The floral offerings will probably be very profuse. Besides the familythere will be among the mounters several relatives from out town. Mr. Gould was very much prostrated yesterday, but will go to Woodlawn with the other members of the family. It is understood that Mrs. Gould's fortune will be divided almost entirely among the children; her jewels will go to her daughters. They are numerous, although she rarely wore them, and among them are a necklace of pearls with a locket, formerly belonging to the Empress Eugenie, which Mr. Gould gave to his wife as a Christmas present in 1872. The cost of the necklace was $28,000.

Every effort was made to-day by the sorrowing members of the Jay Gould family to have the funeral services of Mrs. Jay Gould conducted as privately and quietly as possible. The residents of the immediate neighborhood were evidently in sympathy with the family as The residents of the immediate neighborhood were evidently in sympathy with the family as all the blinds were drawn down. Those who came to attend the funeral approached the Fifth avenue mansion on foot, having left their caarlages some distance away. Miss Helen Gould, who was so closely identified with her mother in the charitable works in which the deceased was engaged, did not retire last night. The young lady kept lonely vigil over the remains of her parent through the night, while the other members of the family sought much needed repose.

The body was laid in the front parior. It was encased in a plain black cloth-covered casket with unique silver handles. Flowers were scattered over the lid of the casket, and at its head and foot were floral emblems. On the silver plate was the inscription:

HELEN DAY GOULD.

The attendance at the service was not large.
Mr. Jay Gould did not appear among his friends, but remained with his family in one of the recesses of the stairway, just above where the services were conducted. A quartette sang, "Asleep in Jesus," and Rev. Dr. John R. Paxton read the Episcopal service for the dead. Rev. John R. Tury then offered a prayer and the services concluded with the singing of a hymn. The family and elergymen only remained after the services. The interment will occur this afternoon.

About an hour after the services the remains were taken to Woodlawn Cemetery for interment. Following the hearse was a carriage containing Mr. Jay Gould and Miss Helen Gould, his daughter. In the next carriave were the other members of the family, George, Eddie, Frank and Hannah. Several other relatives occupied four other carriages.

NEW YORK, January 16, 11 a. m.—The Lendon figures came much higher this morning, but this market did not fully respond to the good feeling on the other side, first prices here being somewhat irregular, although generally from it to it per cent higher than last evening's figures. There was less animation than during the previous few days at that time of day, and the business done was more than usually confined to a few leading shares, among which Atchison, Reading, Erie, Lackswanna and St. Paul were most prominent. The tone of the early trading was fairly firm and most of the stocks traded in showed advances over first figures of small fractions, Atchison leading. But the weak point in the list was Lackswanna, which retired is percent. The market became stationary toward the end of the hour, and at 11 o'clock it was quiet and steady, generally at slight fractions better than the opening figures. Noon—Money is easy at 2623 per cent. Bar silver, 334. The stock market presented no feature of interest after 11 o'clock, but while quiet, remained firm, and small fractional gains were made over the entire list. St. Paul was most active, but its fluctuations were confined to the same narrow range as those of the remained rof the list. Lackswanna still remained sluggish, but did not lose anything. No feature of any kind marked the trading toward noon, and at that time the market was dull and steady at small fractions better than the opening figures. dull and steady at small fractions better than the opening figures. 3p. m.—The stock market closed quiet but weak, at about the lowest figures of the day. HAVANA, January 16.—At 3 jo'clock mon-asy morning convicts broke into the resi-tence of Rev. Father Tribarne, Priest of the aly church in Artemisa, thirty miles fro Havana. He was awakened by the noise and ad two men in his bed room. They had a ighted candle and approached the bed where he priest lay, demanding, under penalty his life, the valuables belong to the church. Fortunately he of his life, the valuables belonging to the church. Fortunately he was prepared, jumped out of bed, pistol in hand and fired at the robbers. One escaped, jumped out of the window. The other ran to the dining-room, pursued by the priest, who brought him to a halt there. The thief begged pardon on his knees, and the priest granted it. Suddenly the rascal rose to his feet and knocking out the light he assaulted the priest with a machete and escaped through a back door. The priest is badly wounded.

News has just been received of a brutal murder of a French subject who was killed yesterday morning on his estate in Guines, by three men dressed in military attire. The victim, Mr. Pedro Jauretich, came to Havana on Priday to purchase supplies for his estate. Tasterday evening three men in military clothes called at the estate on horseback and inquired for Mr. Jauretich. They were told by the three negro servants that he had not yet returned, but was expected in on the morning train. They set out for the railroad station where they were seen by several persons. Jauretich arrived and set out on foot to his estate. On his arrived his murderers had subdued the servants and seeing their victim, they halted him in the name of the law. A struggle ensued. They opened fire on their victim, killing him. Then after robblying the house they escaped. A Costly Blaze. LITTLE ROCK, Ark., January 16 .- A big fire destroyed several houses here yesterday and caused a loss of $30,000. The fire originated in building, on Gaines and Ninth the Jones building, on Gaines and Ninth streets, and spread to three neighboring dwellings and a two-story store. The buildings were entirely consumed and the destruction was complete. Karns & Sons had a grocery in the Jones building and their loss is $700, with $500 insurance. The Jones building was valued at $10,000 and insured for $1,400. There was a $101 in the third story, where the negro lodges met, and all their paraphernalia was destroyed.

KILBAIN SAYS SULLIVAN WILL BE AS STRONG AS EVER.

he "Dog Collar" Champion at His Home is Old, of Whom Much Is Expected—The Big Billiard Tourney Will Fall Through—

LTIMORE, Md., January 16 .- Jake Kilrain, at his home in this city to-day, said that he supposed the reason the friends of Sullivan want so much time before settling arrangements for the coming fight with himself was that they wished to travel around with their man to make money, but that when the time approached for the fight they may find some way of sneaking out of it altogether.

Kilrain expressed the opinion that Sullivan o into training in May, as he says he will, he could be in as good condition next July when the fight is to come off as he ever was; that he has not been drinking much of late and his arm is just as good now as ever. Pending the appointment of the final stakeholder Klirain is going to do a little work to keep his muscles and joints in proper trim.

PROMISING COLTS. The Fine Weather in New York Brings Out

comparatively warm and certainly various tracks near here-about as lively as it isually is in spring, for trainers have their norses out on the roads daily, giving them all the exercise necessary to keep them in a perfectly healthy condition, says the New York Times. Up at Jerome Park during the past week the horses have been out on the past week the horses have been out on the track, which is free from frost, and which, should Superintendent Barretto run a harrow over it for a day, would be in good enough condition to race on. A large number of Ametican Jockev Club men were at the track yesterday to enjoy the fine weather and in spect the seventy horses now on the grounds. Mr. Hyland's string naturally called for the most attention and comment, and a splendid lot he has. Chief among them is the unbeaten French Park, whose career was so suddenly brought to a close by the colt's stepping on a stone. French Park has grown, filled out, and appears to be a most promising 3-vear-old, but every one seems to think that his legs are a trifle too light to allow him to stand a hard campaign. Still, his trainer believes he will stand, and so does his owner, Dave Gideon, who bought him at the Morrissey sale. But Gideon probably has a sturdler and more sure breadwinner in Radiant, who must not be forgotten when the merits of 3-year-olds are being canvassed. He is a regular little buildog, and unless all signs fail will prove to be another Badge, a danger-ous element in any race in which he may start. Trainers at Jerome think he will prove even more dangerous than French Park will and prove the greater money winner of the two, for they look for a similar breakdown in French Park's case to that of the Emperor of Norfolk at Chicago last summer. "A case of too much body for his legs," they call it. Mr. Gideon and a party of friends, including excounty Clerk Keenan, inspected the string Friday afternoon and found the lot to be as trim as they could expect them to be at this time of the year.

American Pool Selling in Europe.

PITTSBURG, January 16.-E. R. Jasper, member of the firm of H. O. Price & Co. formerly the leading pool-sellers of Pittsburg, has gone to Europe for the purpose of introducing the American system of pool-selling in London, Parls and Berlin. It is intimated that he does so in the interest of the American Turf Exchange, an organization to which the most powerful of the bookmakers in the most powerful of the bookmakers in the United States belong, and again in the interest of H. O. Price & Co., who intend to extend their business in that direction. In speaking of Mr. Jasper's trip, one of the firm said: "For years it has been the desire of the principal betting men in the cities named to adopt our system, as more speedy action is secured by it than in the systems in vogue there. They do not have the auction pools and combination plans abroad, and these would certainly become popular with the masses there as here. The great feature, however, is in the arousing of an interest in our racing events, such as is manifested in this country on the outcome of the English Derby or the winner of the Grand Prix event in Paris."

The international billiard tournament that the New York room-keepers are endeavoring to get up in order to revive the interest in the day paper will be found in the game in that city, stands a very good chance game in that city, stands a very good chance of falling through, or, at all events, dwindling into a very second-rate affair, for Vignaux has refused to come to America wishout a guarantee of $2,000, and Piot and Garnier will not come unless he does. Schaefer refuses to join in, as he does not think the system of handleap is a proper one, in which opinion he is backed up by all the good judges of the game in Chicago. Gallagher, Catton, Maggioli and Hatley are not going to participate in it, so that if the tournament takes place it will be a purely local affair, and with the peculiar system of handleap an almost impossible one to judge of any one's capabilities.

Manager Mutrie is developing a schema for the organizing of base ball parties next season. These parties will be conducted in a manner similar to theater parties. It is intended to get up such parties for trips to Boston and Philadelphia. The railroads have partly consented to give a reduction in rates.

"One of the finest gifts that was are given to a ball player," says Frank Selec of the Omaha club, "was the diamond pin that was given to Crooks of my team for the best batting average made in championship games during the past season. His average was .56s. It was a horseshoe pin set with seven diamonds, a magnificent affair, worth, at the least calculation, 3350. The gift came from Mr. John Morrison, one of the directors of the club. Cooney of our club, for making the best general average in our nine, received a solid silver piece, on which was engraved a representation of a field and the players. This was given by the same gentleman."

In this age of progress records in base ball go for naught. A striking illustration of this statement is presented in the case of Sam Barkley. Last season Barkley, as second baseman of the Kansas Citys, led all the other men in the Association in fielding. His record was at the top of the list of second basemen, but in spite of this fact Kansas City does not want him, and although they have had the "leader" on the base ball market for four months, they cannot get anything like their price for him. It now begins to look as if the best (?) second baseman in the Association would have to hunt for a job in one of the minor leagues. This state of affairs shows the change base ball has undergone in the last few years. Not long ago the leader in a position was sought after by everybody. Now records are of minor importance. Sporting Notes.

"Lucky" Baldwin has changedfuls mind one more, and has decided to bring Miss Ford and Volante East, instead of sending the former to the broad farm. Ranson, the winner of the Sheffield Christ mas handicap, was handicapped to run 1254 yards. In his second heat he ran the distance three yards short of 12 seconds.

McKenna is still in New Orleans. At his last attempt at "500 points or no count, straight rail," he won in the third inning, the time of the exhibition being nineteen minutes.

From the rarefied atmosphere of Overland Park, Denver, more than 6,000 feet above the ocean level, comes the claim of the first trotter to beat 2:30 in 1889. The bay stallion Magnet reduced his record of 2:28%, made in 1889, to 2:27%.

One of the most peculiar names yet given to a racer is St. August, a name given by F. B. Harper to his weanling colt by St. Blaise-Secret. It is supposed to be a compliment to August Belmont, who owns the sire of the youngster.

Once Again, recently purchased by Milton Young at the Melbourne Stable sale, has been placed in "Brown Dick's" hands for training and will be specially prepared for the Kentucky Derby and Blue Ribbon stakes, many believing he will prove good enough to win one or the other.

Gaien, the wonderful 2-year-old who ran third in the Coney Island Futurity with very little preparation, and who was sold to George Hankins last fall, has developed splints on both fore legs and has had to be fired. RED DEVILS RUN DOWN.

The Murderers of Byron Dennis and John TOPEKA, Kan., January 16 .- The murderers of Byron Dennis and John Godown have been arrested. The two men named left McPheron, Kan., three weeks ago and went into the Indian Territory on a hunting expedition traveling in a boat down the Arkansas River. After they had reached the Territory between the Osage and Pawnee Reservations, Indian the Osage and Pawnee Reservations, Indians ambushed along the Osage side fired on them, killing Dennis and mortally wounding Godown, who has since died. The killing of the two men was the result of an old crime. An Indian testified in a whisky case at the last term of the United States District Court at Wichita, that he had purchased whisky of a peddler in the Osage Nation. When he returned to the reserve some one split his head open with an ax, killing him instantly. The Deputy United States Marshal of the Osage Nation, Ed Mathews, with a warrant for the arrest of the murderers, proceeded a few days ago to the place where the Indian was killed, and was shot from ambush. He also died. When Dennis and Godown appeared in that vicinity the Indians, suspecting them to be officers, killed them.

METROPOLITAN AND RUBAL TAILORS. "These houses supply nearly all the demand in the large cities and a very great proportion the country call, but besides what sent from these centers there quite a considerable amount immediate vicinity by the manufacturers in towns having from 3,000 to 15,000 population. The cities of the first and second class do not offer nearly so good a field to the small custom tailor as places of a small-er size. The reason of this is that the large manufacturers are well acquainted with urban ashions of out, and also with the style of material required by the dwellers in large cities, which closely resemble each other all over the country. With their facilities for making clothing cheaply they can readily drive out of the business the smaller tailors catering to the same trade, and have now practically monop-tion has at least one suit made by a city tailor. But this is for use only on occasions of great solemnity, and its wearer seldom feels entirely at home in it. For everyday use he requires something else, and in supplying this local demand the small custom tailor finds his field. It is principally from this class that our membership, now over two thousand five hundred, is recruited. Of course the foremen of the great houses belong to our association, and are the leading spirits, but numerically they take a secondary place as compared with what they call the country tailors. It is these latter, also, who have most to learn in our annual gatherings, although the city foremen

QUESTIONS OF CUT.

"The main questions discussed are those in regard to patterns. By one who simply wears clothes the importance of a correct and economical pattern is by no means appreciated. Whether a cort or pair of trousers shall be given this or that shape, or whether a striped suit is cut in just the same way as one made of a solid ground material, may seem a small matter, but to a tailoring establishment turning out thousands of suits every month it is a very important affair. Nearly all firms get their goods at about the same price; the cost of transportation does not greatly differ, and the only points in which superiority can be shown are in methods of sale and in style of patterns. The first department concerns the proprietors and drummers alone, but in the second department the foreman findsscope for his ingenuity, and upon his aviil in devising patterns.

The first department concerns the proprietors and drummers alone, but in the second department the foreman finds scope for his ingenuity, and upon his skill in devising patterns, or in alterating those aiready in vogue, so as to obtain the greatest result with the least waste depends his success in his profession. The question of waste is one of the most important which a tallor has to solve, and the pattern which will allow the greatest number of suits to be out out of a given quantity of cloth is the best. This may seem simple enough, but in reality it presents a most abstruse mathematical problem.

FROBLEMS TO BE SOLVED!

"Cloth comes in pleces of certain fixed sizes, and how best to cut his coat in accordance with his cloth is the question ever present to the mind of the foreman. An almost imperceptible curve in the lines of a coat may enable an extra vest or two to be taken from a bolt; a pair of trousers cut slightly straighter than those ordinarily in use may enable the manufacturer to save I or 2 per cent of the cloth, which would otherwise have to be thrown away; a small alteration in the hang of a sleeve will leave straight remnants, which can be used for wastebands, instead of those cut bias, which are of little use for any purpose. The avoidance of bias fragments for the solution of the foreman. These periodical gatherings are of great value in permitting us to exchange and the substance of the solution of the foreman. These periodical gatherings are of great value in permitting us to exchange of great value in permitting us to exchange of core.
